Assistant Professor – Anatomic Veterinary Pathologist
Department of Microbiology, Immunology and Pathology
Colorado State University
Fort Collins, CO 80523

The Department of Microbiology, Immunology and Pathology, College of Veterinary Medicine and Biomedical Sciences, Colorado State University, is seeking an anatomic veterinary pathology for a tenure track faculty position at the Assistant Professor level. The position involves a 50% commitment to service activities of the Veterinary Diagnostic Laboratory and a 50% commitment to teaching and research activities in the Department. The Veterinary Diagnostic Laboratory is an AAVLD-accredited, full-service laboratory. Service responsibilities are shared amongst nine pathologists from the Department. The Diagnostic Laboratory receives animals and surgical specimens from veterinary practitioners, animal owners, the Colorado Division of Wildlife, and the Veterinary Teaching Hospital. It also functions as a training site for veterinary students and pathology residents.

Duties
Teaching - Teaching commitments include practicum teaching during the necropsy laboratory rotations for veterinary students and pathology residents and hospital surgical rotations for pathology residents and graduate students. Didactic classroom teaching in the undergraduate, graduate and/or professional veterinary medicine curricula of the department also is part of the commitment. Percentage of time 25%.
Research/Scholarly Activity - Involvement in a collaborative research program is an expectation. Preference will be given to persons with interests and expertise to collaborate with the college's established Programs of Research and Scholarly Excellence (PRSE). These are Infectious Disease Research and Response Network, Cancer Biology & Comparative Oncology, the Animal Reproduction & Biotechnology Laboratory, the Musculoskeletal Research Program, and the Molecular, Cellular, & Integrative Neuroscience Program. Percentage of time 25%.
