Introduction

The College of Veterinary Medicine and Biomedical Sciences (hereafter referred to as CVMBS) is an integral part of Colorado State University (CSU), a comprehensive land-grant university. The CVMBS is committed to the University’s land-grant mission of serving the people of Colorado through teaching, research, community/economic outreach, and engagement/service. The CVMBS is also dedicated to providing students with a high-quality education in the undergraduate, graduate and Doctor of Veterinary Medicine (DVM) programs. The CVMBS embraces the University ideal of expressing diversity through the racial, ethnic, gender, cultural and socioeconomic composition of its faculty, staff and students.

The CVMBS College Code is consistent with policies and procedures described in the University's Academic Faculty and Administrative Professional Staff Manual (referred to as the Manual). The CVMBS abides by procedures outlined in the Manual. In cases of conflict between the CVMBS Code and the University (Section C. of the Manual) or Departmental codes, the University and Departmental Codes shall take precedence (C.2.4) over the College Code (C.2.4.1 and C.2.4.2).

The College adopted the tag line ‘Helping animals, people, and the planet’ and the College objectives are expressed in the CVMBS mission and value statements as follows:

Mission of CVMBS: We improve the health of animals, people and the planet through innovative and dedicated teaching, research, outreach, and clinical service. Through our actions, we empower the next generation of leaders to change the world.

Values of CVMBS: We act with integrity and are trusting and respectful of one another. We create an atmosphere that makes our college the academic community of choice through:

Transparency – A lack of hidden agendas and conditions, accompanied by the availability of information required for collaboration, cooperation, and collective decision-making.

Accountability – A willingness or obligation to accept responsibility, to account for actions and activities, and to disclose the results.
Collaboration – People or units working together to achieve a common aim.

Team – A small number of people with complementary skills who are committed to a common purpose, performance goals, and approach for which they hold themselves mutually accountable.

II. Organization and Administration

The CVMBS consists of four academic Departments: Biomedical Sciences; Clinical Sciences; Environmental and Radiological Health Sciences; and Microbiology, Immunology and Pathology. Other Organizational Units include the Veterinary Teaching Hospital and the Veterinary Diagnostic Laboratory. The College also shares administrative oversight of various special academic units and other interdisciplinary programs. The responsibilities of the college in regard to each of these units is set forth in the foundation documents of those units. Faculty in CVMBS also participate in the Programs of Research and Scholarly Excellence (PRSE) and Centers, Institutes and Other Special Units (CIOSU), some located wholly within the college, others spanning multiple Colleges.
