News Release
For Accepted DVM Applicants

If you would like your hometown/local newspaper to be notified of your acceptance into the professional veterinary medical program at Colorado State, please print a copy of this news release form, complete the information, sign it and mail to the paper(s) of your choice. If you wish, you may include a black and white photo.

I AUTHORIZE THE RELEASE OF THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION:

__________________________________

(signature)

__________________________________ (full name) has been accepted into the DVM Program, which leads to the degree of Doctor of Veterinary Medicine degree, at Colorado State University for the fall, 2015 term.

__________________________________ (first name) was among 138 students selected for the program from a pool of 1,550 applicants. Selection is based primarily on academic achievement, familiarity with the many facets of veterinary medicine, and extracurricular and community activities.

__________________________________ (first name) graduated in __________(year of high school graduation) from ______________________(name of high school) and received an undergraduate degree in ______________________________(major field of study) from ______________________________(undergraduate institution).

The DVM Program at Colorado State University is ranked as one of the most outstanding veterinary medicine programs in the United States. Students receive intensive training in clinical and nonclinical aspects of veterinary medicine.

__________________________________ (full name) is the (son)(daughter) of __________________________________ (parent names) of __________________________ (address).